VIRTUAL SCHOOL TOUR

BRIGHTWORKS

San Francisco USA

Tuesday 10th May

7:30am-8:15am AEST

Brightworks is a K-12 school in San Francisco that honors students' agency by partnering with them on their educational path.

Brightworks is a school based on the principle that everything is interesting. Brightworks trust that children are instinctual learners, and we honor their leadership and partnership in their educational path. The school sets topics for exploration and encourages children to take on projects they are passionate about, while also fostering the development of a multitude of skills. Students are full partners in their own education, and every child is known and understood by their collaborators and the staff.

Collaborators (teachers) strive to build bonds with the students, challenge them, support them, and create with them so each can find their most beautiful version of themselves.

Join Future Schools for a virtual tour of this inspiring school. We'll meet Aaron Eden (Executive Director), who is an international champion of education transformation and has worked with schools and organizations around the world to "re-humanize" how we work, learn, and live.
